

International Women's Day in Kenya

Highlights

International Women's Day is a global celebration of the social, economic, cultural, and political achievements of women.

Each year on March 8th, One Horizon celebrates this special day by holding parties for the wonderful Kenyan women at the projects we support and you are invited. This is a rare opportunity to visit remarkable groups of women who are instrumental in building new, bright and sustainable futures for themselves, their families and their communities.

These experiences will give you deep insight into the customs and structures of rural Kenyan family life, and the highlight is the genuine interaction with these amazing women as we applaud their achievements at our events on International Women's Day.

Marvellous Maasai Women

Connect with Kenya's proud Maasai women on International Women's Day in an authentic and interactive way by becoming part of the hustle and bustle of their village.

It is Maasai women who make many important family decisions and shoulder a great deal of responsibility in day-to-day life, and they build the manyatta, or family homestead, and are responsible for livestock cultivation, meal preparation, and educating their children for roles in the community.

This is a fun-filled day with singing and dancing and you will dress in a traditional Maasai shuka cloth or 'African blanket' and help cook our traditional Kenyan lunch. Our International Women's Day party celebrates the strength, courage and wisdom of Maasai women and you'll gain an understanding of how important they are in Maasai society.

Celebrating Kikuyu Grandmothers

Celebrate International Women's Day by meeting a Kikuyu community of endearing and entrepreneurial grandmothers at a project supported by One Horizon, which has significantly improved their livelihoods by empowering them through small-scale farming.

Many Kenyan grandmothers play a vital role in raising their extended families when parents are unable to do so, and the financial constraints are extremely challenging. But thanks to our small business program, the grandmas earn a sustainable income from pig-farming to feed their families.

On this day of fun, you'll get to know the delightful grandmas, help cook our traditional and delicious Kenyan lunch, and share much laughter and singing and dancing. On our special International Women's Day party you will get a real insight of the strength and resilience of these remarkable Kenyan grandmothers..
